Product Description

Providing an ample 3.8kW heat output, the high efficiency conventional flue Riva2 400 gas fire easily warms standard room sizes making it a practical heating choice for a great many homes.

Non-reflective glass displays a highly realistic log-effect fuel bed, composed in such a way to ensure an inspiring flame picture with both depth and height.

Tall flames rise among the log-effect to closely resemble that of an authentic wood burning fire and can be easily controlled with the Programmable Thermostatic remote control. This powerful handset also lets you set your fire to burn at specified times and temperatures.
